Welcome to Limmud AZ 2016!

The heart of Limmud is its values: a program entirely planned and run by volunticipants; a place where everyone teaches and everyone learns; and a place that demonstrates the breadth, depth, creativity and joy of Jewish life.

It is our hope that Limmud AZ will continue to create a re-energized and vibrant Jewish Arizona.

Challenge yourself to move out of the comfort of what you already know, and into the exciting places you’ve never been. Meet new people today and study something you’ve never learned about before.

No matter how you’ve gotten here today, settle in, enjoy, and be both a learner and a teacher.

Thank you to all of our volunticipants, presenters, sponsors, supporters and all who have worked to make this event come true. Have a wonderful day.

Sandy, Suzanne and Michelle

A LETTER FROM LIMMUD INTERNATIONAL

Dear Friends,

It is with great pleasure that I am writing to congratulate you on Limmud AZ 2016. I am sure the event will build on the success of last year’s event. We look forward to hearing all about it.

2016 represents the 36th year of Limmud’s existence and its growth around the world has been astounding. Limmud’s unique model of volunteer-led, cross-communal, multi-generational and transformational Jewish experiences is now truly global. There are now 80 Limmud groups in 40 countries round the world, and in 2015 there were 65 Limmud events run by 3,000 volunteers with 28,500 participants. These events are all inspired and supported by Limmud International and you can find out more at www.limmudinternational.org.

Limmud is now truly a global community and we encourage you to attend Limmud events in other parts of the world if you are able to.

Limmud seeks to take every individual who attends our events one step further on their Jewish journey. Each individual will have a different Jewish journey yet I have no doubt that given the excellent and diverse programme that has been developed, Limmud AZ will achieve this goal. I would like to extend my congratulations to the wonderful team who have put so much effort into creating this event and Limmud community and I wish you every success.

Limmud’s Mission and Values

Our Mission - Limmud’s Promise:
Wherever you find yourself, Limmud will take you one step further on your Jewish journey.

Limmud’s mission is informed by the following values:

Learning
- Everyone should be a student and anyone can be a teacher
- Learning embraces personal development, knowledge and skills
- Learning changes people, inspires action and opens new worlds
- There are many inspirations that can offer opportunities for learning

Expanding Jewish Horizons
- We strive to create individual, collective and communal experiences, through which we strengthen and develop our Jewish identity

Enabling Connections
- We aim to create opportunities for communities and individuals to connect
- We recognize the strength of providing a space where spiritual, emotional and intellectual connections are made

Participation
- Volunteerism is a key feature of almost everything we do
- We are all responsible for each other and for the communities we create - everyone has an important contribution to make
- We encourage participants to take an active part in all we do

Empowerment
- We inspire people to be ambitious about their contribution
- We challenge people, and trust them to rise to that challenge
- We see the potential of individuals and communities, and support their development
- We empower people to make choices and provide the information they need to inform those choices (including in the biographies which we ask presenters to provide)

Diversity
- We value the rich diversity among Jews, and so we seek to create cross-communal and inter-generational experiences
- We value accessibility, and aim to be accessible to all
- We value choice in form, content and style in our programs
- We encourage people not to stereotype others

Community & Mutual Responsibility
- Limmud is a community of learning
- We can achieve more together than we can individually
- We gain from, and should give something back to, the Jewish and wider community

Respect
- No one is more important than anyone else
- We expect all participants to be respectful to one another, and to recognize that all volunteers are also participants

Arguments for the Sake of Heaven
- We recognize and appreciate that ‘arguments for the sake of heaven’ can make a positive contribution to furthering our education and understanding
- We do not participate in legitimizing or de-legitimizing any religious or political position found in the worldwide Jewish community. Anyone coming to Limmud seeking opportunities for this will not find them. We have no part to play in the debates between/across denominations.
- Sessions which encourage vigorous debate are entirely acceptable but we will seek to avoid religious or political conflict. Sessions should be educational, and not polemical

Religious Observance
- Shabbat and kashrut are observed in all public areas
- We recognize that in private areas, people will behave as they wish
- Should participants wish to hold a prayer group, they may do so providing they supply all resources and are responsible for the session or prayer group in its entirety

---

Limmud Rules

Registration
Registration will be open all day beginning at 8:15am. You will receive a badge and a program book.

Please wear your badge at all times for security purposes. If you lose your badge, please get a replacement at the registration table.

Help/Volunteer Desk
The Help/Volunteer desk is located in the hallway right near registration. Please visit with any questions.

Food
All snacks and lunch are under rabbinical supervision. NO outside food is allowed in the lunch room.

Lunch will be served at 12:30-1:30pm in MU221 Arizona Ballroom.

Bookstore
To help the learning continue, many of our presenters’ books will be on sale in MU 221 Arizona Ballroom. A portion of each sale will benefit Limmud AZ. The store will be open during breaks and lunch. Please stop by!

Security
For your protection there will be security personnel on the premises at all times. Remember, please wear your badge.

Limmud Etiquette
- During every session, please make sure your phone is on silent. Please respect our presenters and do not text during the session.
- The Limmud culture is one built on punctuality. Every session is expected to begin and end on time so please be prompt. Some sessions have limited space due to fire codes. Please, if a session is full when you arrive at the room, choose another session that is of interest to you.
- We realize that there may be many sessions that you want to attend during each scheduled time period. If after a session has started you would like to move to another session, please feel free to do so, but leave in the most respectful and quiet way possible so as not to disturb the presenters or other attendees.
- Please be considerate of the others in the room so as not to interrupt their experience of the program.

This class will focus on Franklin Delano Roosevelt from 1932 to 1945. Included will be his response to the Great Depression, to the rise of Nazi Germany, to the plight of German Jewry prior to the outbreak of the war, to his dealings with anti-Semitism in the United States, to his reaction and steps when World War II broke out. Special focus will be on FDR’s response to addressing the issues and the tragedy of the Holocaust and dealing with the American Jewish community as the scope and horror of the Nazi plans became clearer as the war progressed.

Contrary to what we have been taught in Hebrew school the practice of Judaism has changed significantly over the millennia. Perhaps the most significant changes have occurred in modernity with the influx of Jews in the 19th and 20th Centuries from Europe to America. This session will outline these changes in a multimedia presentation. Please join us in this interesting journey and lively discussion.

The world today is in the midst of a major ecological crisis that is manifested in extreme weather events, loss of biodiversity, depletion of fisheries, prolonged droughts and pollution of air, water and soil. Since the 1970’s world religions have begun to grapple with the religious significance of the environmental crisis. This session explores how Judaism has addressed the ecological crisis for the past 50 years and the emergence of new religious ecological responses.

From freedom to responsibility: What does freedom mean? Why do we need it and what purpose does it serve? Learn how to use the Kabbalistic concept of s’rati ha-omer (counting of the omer), the seven-week period between Passover and Shavuot, as a step-by-step strategy to achieve personal tikun hamidiot (repair of character attributes), enabling us to break through the restrictions that obstruct us (Mitzraim/Egypt) and to prepare ourselves for the fulfillment of our mission in this world (Sina).

Raising funds for not for profit organizations can be challenging. There are many organizations competing for Donor Dollars. Fundraising requires a lot of time, volunteer manpower, energy, layout of capital, risk and unknown economic factors . This presentation will guide you thru the Fundraising Process from inception to implementation. Learn how to assess an event for profitability and whether your organization has the seed capital and volunteers to make the event successful. The Ten Commandments for Successful Fundraising will help you focus your efforts and monetary expectations. Learn about social media and standard marketing tools in order to ensure the best results possible for your Event.

We will explore several meditative techniques including guided imagery meditation, breathing meditation, niggun meditation and several others through a Jewish lens. The gift of this meditation experience is to enter a world that we don’t always get to travel too, to feel inspired, energetic, spirited and connected to our souls and our bodies. All one has to do is have an open mind to all spiritual and creative possibilities to foster a connection.

Come experience a gentle yoga practice to relax, calm and center yours self. The Judaism I’ve experienced, is deeply rooted in study. It is rich in questioning and fortified with instructions for how to behave in the world. This Judaism resonates with me as I tend to lead with my head. And yet, it feels like something is missing, or perhaps has been lost. Yoga practice takes me out of my head and into my heart. It provides a way to gain mastery over the roaming tendencies of our minds to allow us access to our innate inner joy and luminosity. Whether you’re an experienced yoga practitioner or would like to give it a try, come slow down, open up, move and breath. Give your mind and body a rest from the intellectual pursuits of the day and bring your awareness inside, back home to yourself.

Exploring the reality that Jewish biblical heroes can be related to exactly because they were all human beings – not deities. This makes them accessible to us; we don’t have to be “perfect” to be “in.” Moses had anger management issues and never wanted his job; Noah had a problem with alcohol and caused great embarrassment to his son; Sarah was bitter about being childless for so long and did some bad things that are hard to rationalize (yet her marriage to Abraham ended with tenderness); Rebecca totally deceived her husband Isaac when he was frail and nearly blind; David was as much a misogynist and a murderer as he was perhaps the world’s greatest musician. The session will be a give and take with these stories and the goal is to truly humanize our “heroes” and understand why and how they are so easy to relate to our own lives and the world in which we live.

“Who is the person who desires life, who loves days filled with goodness? Guard your tongue from evil and your lips from false speech.”- Psalm 34:12

Knowing when to speak and when to refrain from speaking, how to offer difficult feedback, when to tell the truth and when might a little white lie be appropriate- these are some of the greatest ethical challenges we face every single day. The Torah tells us that the entire world was created by the power of the word, and, similarly our entire world can be destroyed through harmful speech.

Let’s explore what Judaism can teach us about the wise use of the holy gift of speech.

Exploring photography as an act of prayer. Rather than only reciting prayers lauding the sun, moon, trees and the rest of the world, take photos of the Master of the Universe’s creations. When he is shooting Hershl often tunes-in and enters a zone where he almost becomes one with the subject. Photographic process will be discussed. Participants are encouraged to bring a few samples of their photographs to discuss the elements of tefillah in their work and process.
As people are living longer today, many of us have to deal with our elderly parents. This seminar will review issues that many of us will face, such as removing our parents’ car keys, finding care for them, and/or securing assisted living quarters for them.

10:15AM-11:35AM

DEALING WITH OUR ELDERLY PARENTS

Presenters: Cary Silverstein, Larry Waldman
Topic: Life Cycle
Room: MU 246 Coconino

This seminar will survey the important figures and sounds of the Jews that helped build jazz music.

JAZZ AND JEW

Presenters: Steve Weitzenkorn
Topic: Art & Culture
Room: MU 226 Graham

Could a Jewish woman and feminist (centuries before the term was coined) have written Shakespeare’s comedies and some of his most famous dramas? That distinct possibility will be explored, looking at clues and Judaic allegories embedded in the scripts as well as the correlation between her life and the chronology of plays. This session will survey the important figures and sounds of the Jews that helped build jazz music.

WAS A JEWISH WOMAN BEHIND SHAKESPEARE’S MASK?

Presenters: Steve Weitzenkorn
Topic: Art & Culture
Room: MU 226 Graham

Jazz represents the sounds of America. Within that sound are the stories of Americans striving to have their voices heard. The Jewish-American story is wrapped up in the early and continued development of the genre of jazz. This seminar will survey the important figures and sounds of the Jews that helped build jazz music.

STORIES FROM A PEACE ACTIVIST

Presenters: Jonathan Wasserman
Topic: Israel
Room: MU 242 La Paz

Jonathan spent two months during this past summer organizing American students in Israel and the West Bank. Come learn about the experiences that those students and Jonathan had as they traveled to many of the most contentious areas affected by the Israeli-Palestinian conflict, the lessons they learned, and the work that they are now doing on their campuses and in their Jewish communities.

THE JEWISH JUSTICES

Presenters: David Kader
Topic: Jewish Learning
Room: MU 241B Ventana

An overview of the Jewish Justices of the United States Supreme Court, from Brandeis to Kagan.

THE BEHIND THE SCENES STORY OF TRUMAN’S SUPPORT FOR THE STATEHOOD OF ISRAEL

Presenters: Robert Watson
Topic: Jewish Experience
Room: MU 241C Ventana

This talk reveals the behind-the-scenes role and political intrigue leading up to statehood for Israel in 1948. President Harry Truman was opposed by senior officials in Britain, his own State Department, and many others, but worked with Zionist leaders to build support for statehood, provide important aid and funding to the Redfire State, and assure close relations with the U.S. The story is, at times, amusing and surprising, but is an inspiring example of moral courage in political leadership.

WHEN KIDS DON’T FIT INTO A PINK OR BLUE GENDER BOX

Presenters: Mariam Cohen
Topic: Life Cycle
Room: MU 224 Gila

Converts have always been a controversial topic in Judaism, from the medieval era, through the Enlightenment in the 19th century. This presentation will cover some of the history of conversion to Judaism. Based on interviews with a number of converts, the current patterns of conversion (who converts, how do they convert, what issues are important to converts) and some of the current controversies and problems faced by converts to Judaism in America. One focus will be the importance of support for converts from the Jewish community.

CONVERTING TO JUDAISM IN AMERICA TODAY

Presenters: Mariam Cohen
Topic: Life Cycle
Room: MU 224 Gila

This seminar will give snapshots from the life of a brilliant scientist who fell victim to FTD, a vicious brain disease that warps a person’s personality, judgment and relationships past the breaking point. A disease that has been often misdiagnosed as a psychiatric problem, until recent medical innovations found the real cause—a degenerative process in the brain. The clinical symptoms of FTD will be described, the physical and emotional toll on family members, the financial burden, and difficulty in getting the diagnosis will be discussed. Some information on possible prevention, treatment, and management will be provided.

WHEN LOVE MEETS DEMENTIA

Presenters: Tracee Rosen
Topic: Text & Torah
Room: MU 238 Apache

Have you heard of Maslow’s Hierarchy of Needs? In the 1940s, psychologist Abraham Maslow sought to define the characteristics of positive mental health. In the process, he articulated his famous pyramid of human motivation. In this class, we will examine a famous Biblical text that mirrors, or might have even inspired, Maslow’s theory. Revisit this famous text with new eyes, and discover the ancient wisdom that can lead us all to a life of fulfillment.

LAYERS UPON LAYERS OF MEANING

Presenters: Todd Herzog
Topic: Text & Torah
Room: MU 228 Cochise

This workshop will allow participants to view and interpret text through the language of music and rhythm. Following the Pardes system of text study, we will assign each layer of meaning a unique musical expression that will then be layered one on top of the next to create a new musical composition. The class will utilize looping and recording technology to capture our work. No previous musical experience necessary.
Creative Aging is a national movement aimed at fostering an understanding of the vital relationship between creative expression and quality of life for older adults. Quality arts programming has a clear and direct impact on the three elements which lead to improved quality of life through a sense of well-being in older adults: Living with purpose and joy, sustaining positive, meaningful, dynamic relationships, and dealing effectively with life’s changes and challenges. Learn about what is being offered locally to enrich the lives of our older adults.

Powering the Promised Land: Fracking and Energy Use in Israel

What’s the source of the electricity that powers the lights when you flick the switch in Israel? Hint: It may not be what you think. Israel is on the verge of becoming an energy superpower, but at what cost? Learn what most people that make them feel worthy.

The Circle of Life: Finding Purpose and Passion at Every Stage

Iris Krasnow has spent a career interviewing people about what matters most in their lives—doing work they love, and sustaining close relationships, with friends, family and partners. Krasnow’s presentation will be inspiring, prescriptive and humorous as she shares details of stories about the dos and don’ts men and women have shared with her on how to successfully navigate each phase of the growth cycle. Krasnow’s focus will be on the importance of each person in a couple having a sense of purpose, and self-worth, beyond marriage and family, or as she puts it: “The happiest people I know have work they love and are surrounded by people they love—people that make them feel worthy.”

The Marriages of Moses and Intermarriage Today: Can We Judge?

In spite of his many personal frustrations with his career path and certainly with the Hebrews lack of gratitude, Moses led a fascinating personal life. The “Chief Rabbi” of Israel was married twice—both times to non-Jewish women. The first was the pagan daughter of the Midianite High Priest and, in fact, Moses took to his very non-Jewish father-in-law, Jethro, with tremendous affection and respect. The second was a black woman—which provoked criticism from both of both Moses’s siblings, Aaron and Miriam. God punished Miriam with leprosy, leading Moses to pray that she recover—one of only two times that Moses prayed in the Torah. This itself is another irony about the often-free spirited, strong-willed Moses but, more importantly, leads us to a contemporary discussion about the high rate of Jewish intermarriage and how we react to it.

Enhancing Your Mother/Daughter Relationship

Experience a one-of-a-kind interactive program that will enhance your Mother/Daughter Relationship through coping tools and strategies. Presentation will include Powerpoint, role-plays, and interactive/open discussion.

Life Is a Diamond: A Talk on Intermarriage

The year 1965 is a milestone in Jewish history. The year before, the first woman rabbi was ordained in the United States. The year after, the Supreme Court ruled that anti-miscegenation laws violate the 14th Amendment. Linda Hirshman, author of a recent bestselling biography of Justices O’Connor and Ginsburg, will talk about their rise and influence on American law in general and the Supreme Court in particular. Whatever the state of play in replacing Justice Scalia at the time of Limmud AZ, she will analyze the record of the 4/4 Court after he died and predict what will happen next. Her presentation will include talk about the decisions on immigration, abortion and affirmative action.

When Down is Up: The Hasidic Masters on Spiritual Descent

The Hasidic masters taught that sometimes down is up. Sometimes the only way to get closer to God is to fall further away. That is because there is a kind of revelation that occurs only in the darkness. Some spiritual insights come to us only where God seems most absent. We will explore a teaching from the Degel Mahaneh Efrayim of Rabbi Efraim of Sudlikov on “yeridah l’tzorekh aliyah” (spiritual descent for the sake of ascent), and see how its message can help us in our own growth.

The Ten Commandments: A Spiritual Blueprint to a Better Life

This session will reveal the inner structure of the Asseret Hadibrot (10 principles) given at Mt. Sinai. A close reading of the text will reveal that this is not God’s top 10 list of mitzvot, rather it is a comprehensive system that can help us to grow in our spiritual lives and in our relationships with each other.
CLASS SCHEDULE

1:30pm-2:30pm

Presentation Title: The Nazi Titanic: The Unknown Shocking Story of the Final Days of the Holocaust
Presenter: Robert Watson
Room: MU 241B Ventana

This is the little-known story of the final days of the Holocaust and an intriguing German ocean liner built to be the new Titanic. As the pride of the Third Reich, the ship starred in the most expensive propaganda film in history and played a central role in a bizarre plan by Hitler and Goebbels to turn the tide of the war. In the final moments of WWII as the Allies were closing in, Nazi commanders planned to load the ship with prisoners of the Holocaust and scuttle it. No one expected what would happen next... All evidence of the series of shocking events was sealed by the British government at the end of the war, but the documents have been declassified.

Presentation Title: American Jewish Experience
Presenter: Marty Haber
Room: MU 228 Cochise

This course, the American Jewish Experience, has three main objectives. First it identifies important contributions that Jews have made to American society. The class will provide some of the major periods, events and trends of American Jewish History.

Second, it provides a backdrop of their own families histories. It is the origin and development of the communities in which they live and have lived. Participants should be able to explore how their Jewish identities, to some degree, are a composite of the people, experiences and events that have preceded them with the overlay of their own unique interests and experiences.

Third, participants will be asked to bring their own unique Jewish voice both to the class and to the continuum of Jewish History.

Presentation Title: Have I Got a Story for You: Yiddish Writers in America
Presenter: Ezra Glinter
Room: MU 242 La Paz

The Forward is the most renowned Yiddish newspaper in the world. It welcomed generations of immigrants to the United States, brought them news of Europe and the Middle East, and provided them with everything from comic strips to noodle kugel recipes. It also published some of the most acclaimed Yiddish fiction writers of all time, including Nobel Prize laureate Isaac Bashevis Singer. These stories, now in English for the first time, expressed the concerns of Yiddish writers and their millions of readers, including the challenges of immigration, both World Wars, and changing forms of Jewish identity.

Presentation Title: God Talk: Creating Your Personal Relationship with God Through Prayer
Presenter: Bob Westle
Room: MU 236 Mojave

Learning how to create a closer, more personal relationship with God, relating to ourselves and to others through the art of Prayer. Becoming comfortable with the complexities of Prayer can not be achieved in a single course but it is a process with this being the first small step.

CLASS SCHEDULE

12:30PM-1:30PM

LUNCH
Room: Arizona Room

Presentation Title: Holocaust Poetry
Presenter: David Benkof
Room: MU 226 Graham

It’s been said that extreme times lead to great art. Examine short works about the Holocaust by Dan Pagis, Abraham Sutzkever, Primo Levi, and others to explore how survivors, observers, and future generations have used rhythm, rhyme, meter, symbolism, and imagery to respond to the Shoah. Beyond brief explanations, the session will focus on discussion and group work.

Presentation Title: Finding God in the Strangest Places
Presenter: Michael Wasserman
Room: MU 228 Cochise

A core teaching of Hasidism is that there is no place where God cannot be found. Everything contains some spark of the divine. But what about the dark places within ourselves, the feelings and impulses that we are least proud of? How do we find God there? We will study some texts from the Me or Eynayim, in which Rabbi Menachem Nachum Twersky of Chernobyl (1730 - 1797) teaches us that we can find God, and redeem ourselves, by uncovering the holy sparks hidden even in the darkest parts of our own personalities.

Presentation Title: Five Ways to Argue Constructively with your Partner
Presenter: Larry Waldman
Room: MU 240 Navajo

A healthy relationship is one where the inevitable issues are resolved. In this seminar the five basic steps couples can use to effectively manage their issues are reviewed.

Presentation Title: Intimacy in Aging
Presenter: Iris Krasnow
Room: MU 241C Ventana

This presentation will focus specifically on keeping the fires hot, or at least simmering, during a long relationship, spinning out of Iris Krasnow's books on marriage and her newest title: “Sex After...Women Share How Intimacy Changes As Life Changes”. Having interviewed hundreds of couples about what it takes to keep their vows “Til Death Do We Part”, Krasnow is full of stories on the hard work and perseverance it takes to sustain long marriages and partnerships.

Presentation Title: Son Returns: Miracle Stories of Divine Intervention
Presenter: Robin Meyerson
Room: MU 248 Rincon

Robin will share numerous miracle stories that are both humorous and inspirational including the amazing and uplifting “coincidences” from A SON RETURNS; featured in the best-selling Series; Small Miracles From Beyond. Come hear what has inspired thousands of people from these fantastic stories of divine intervention all over the world about how the Hand of God directs our life in both the small and huge every day events.

Presentation Title: Awareness Through Movement: How to Restore Your Body Back to Health
Presenter: Jill Davis
Room: MU 238 Apache

Meshe Feldenkrais, from Israel, created a series of movement patterns that gets your nervous system to go from your para-sympathetic to your sympathy nervous system. The movements are small and everyone can do the movements and experience new feelings of health and relaxation in their bodies and mind. Learn new ways to handle stress and have more awarenesses of the importance of movement for health.

Presentation Title: Finding the Blessing in Your Hebrew Name
Presenter: Alicia Magal
Room: MU 224 Gila

Class will involve looking at the meanings and blessing in one’s Hebrew name; and finding the actual biblical pasuk (verse) that corresponds to one’s Hebrew name.
Presentation Title: Allegiance to a Pledge: The Ethics of Honoring Verbal Commitments
Presenter: Levi Levertoff
Topic: Jewish Learning
Room: MU 246 Coconino

Your friend is depending on your investment to get his business up and running. You agreed to help your friend especially when we feel that our self-worth has been denigrated. Join us as we explore the noble and liberating virtue of forgiveness, as taught in our Jewish heritage, and how to apply it to our everyday life.

Please note: This is a 2-hour class.

Presentation Title: Creating Community: Strengthening Our Global Jewish Family
Presenter: Eli Ovits
Topic: Jewish Experience
Room: MU 241B Ventana

Together we will explore some of the worldwide challenges facing the Jewish People and society at large. Have Limmud, and others, developed a proven formula to combat them? To engage people, and create a community fit for our times and common future? This session welcomes innovative minds - seeking to learn and get involved.

Presentation Title: Allegiance to a Pledge: The Ethics of Honoring Verbal Commitments
Presenter: Levi Levertoff
Topic: Jewish Learning
Room: MU 246 Coconino

Your friend is depending on your investment to get his business up and running. You agreed to help your friend move. You made a large pledge, but circumstances have since changed. Just how binding are your commitments? Please note: This is a 2-hour class.

Presentation Title: Narrow Bridges: Jews and Blacks in America Today
Presenter: Andre Ivory
Topic: Jewish Learning
Room: MU 226 Cochise

Fifty years post-civil rights movement, the Jewish and Black communities in America face an ever growing rift between the two. This is a far cry from the days of Selma with King and Heschel walking together. Examining the internal, national and international issues which face each community, we can better understand how the relationship between the two communities has shifted over the years. Plus, discussing key areas of unification between the two communities moving forward will be included.

Presentation Title: The Power of Forgiveness
Presenter: Pinchas Allouche
Topic: Text & Torah
Room: MU 241A Ventana

We've all been hurt, by someone, by something. And no, it's not easy to forgive and overlook insults and affronts, especially when we feel that our self-worth has been denigrated. Join us as we explore the noble and liberating virtue of forgiveness, as taught in our Jewish heritage, and how to apply it to our everyday life.

Presentation Title: Drum Shalom: Drum for Peace, Drum for Healing, Drum for Fun
Presenter: Sarah Leah Grafstein
Topic: Arts & Culture
Room: MU 207 Gold

The Jewish people are a tribal culture with an ancient musical tradition. As we have wandered in the Diaspora, we have gathered and incorporated traditions from local and host cultures. Today, in North America there is a resurgence of interest in hand drumming. This is inspiring Jews to pick up their drums and reconnect with this most basic primal Biblical instrument. As it is said in Exodus “and Miriam the prophetess took her drum and tambourine and lead the women in dance.”

Join us and experience new heights through singing and drumming with a master drummer and a Carlebach musician. Drum Shalom generates inner peace, love and healing. Bring your friends and your drums! We will have extras.

Please note: This is a 2-hour class.

Presentation Title: Who are the “Nones”?
Presenter: Marcia Fine
Topic: Jewish Learning
Room: MU 226 Graham

According to the 2013 Pew Research Center survey, Over 20% of U.S. Jews consider themselves to be "nones". In other words, they have no religion. We will ask the questions: “What are the noes rejecting?” “Do the noes maintain a need for education and spiritual/emotional connection?” and “Can an inherently Jewish practice, intellectual study, offer an opportunity for the noes to reclaim their Jewish identity?”

Presentation Title: Yiddish: The International Language
Presenter: Leon Gildin
Topic: Jewish Learning
Room: MU 230 Rincon

Yiddish, the international language of Ashkenazic Jews, was brought to the United States by the great immigration from Eastern Europe. The people, in their desire for a life of freedom and education without fear of reprisal, contributed more to the fabric and culture of the American scene than any other immigrant population. This class explores the language, where it came from, what it brought with it, what it left behind and who speaks it today.

Presentation Title: Jewish Practice as Related to Tikkun Olam
Presenter: Michael Beyo
Topic: Text & Torah
Room: MU 246 Coconino

This class explores the tension that exists between faith and practice in Judaism from the prism of Tikkun Olam.

Presentation Title: Hidden Ones: Sephardim and Trauma
Presenter: Marcia Fine
Topic: Jewish Learning
Room: MU 226 Graham

Did the Sephardim expelled from Spain and Portugal in 1492/1497 carry trauma in their genes to the New World? How are memory and identity shaped by our experiences and our individual or collective histories? What is the relationship between memory and identity?

This question has haunted me since I began research for my novel, THE BLIND EYE – A Sephardic Journey about displaced Jews from the Iberian Peninsula. The trauma of the ejection continues in HIDDEN ONES – A Veil of Memories that focuses on conversations in Mexico.

Melancholia, depression, and anger are all symptoms Sephardim dealt with as a result of the expulsion for the almost four hundred years they were persecuted around the world. The ordeal explains their mental state for centuries after the fact. The pain these people suffered because of the Inquisition cannot be minimized. It was in every area of their lives from forced conversions to abandoned possessions, the threat of death and hiding secrets on a daily basis.

My research has been focused on women during the Inquisition, from books and journals about Sephardim, scientific papers and theories about the Jewish community, particularly Rachel Yehuda, Director of Mental Patient Care and a professor of psychiatry at the School of Medicine at Mount Sinai Hospital. She has developed Epigenetics, the study of alterations on genes that adjust the way they function. It means we carry our history with us, especially trauma. Holocaust survivors and the generations after are a great resource. Scientific studies in progress at Emory, Duke, Columbia and Stanford reveal certain traumatic life experiences can affect us on a genetic level. These can be passed on to future generations.

In my novel the characters feel the heavy burden they transport to Mexico after being cast out of their Brazilian colony on 26 January 1654. They travel through South America to Mexico. The Inquisition, to satisfy financial needs, initiates offices in Mexico City, Lima and Cartagena. For those suffering under these institutions until 1834 when the Inquisition collapsed, revisions of their sad mental state never left them.

Presentation Title: Creating Community: Strengthening Our Global Jewish Family
Presenter: Eli Ovits
Topic: Jewish Experience
Room: MU 241B Ventana

Together we will explore some of the worldwide challenges facing the Jewish People and society at large. Have Limmud, and others, developed a proven formula to combat them? To engage people, and create a community fit for our times and common future? This session welcomes innovative minds - seeking to learn and get involved.

Presentation Title: Allegiance to a Pledge: The Ethics of Honoring Verbal Commitments
Presenter: Levi Levertoff
Topic: Jewish Learning
Room: MU 246 Coconino

Your friend is depending on your investment to get his business up and running. You agreed to help your friend move. You made a large pledge, but circumstances have since changed. Just how binding are your commitments? When is it all right to renge? What makes a contract binding in Jewish law? When can you ethically renge on a verbal agreement? Is a commitment to give a gift or to attend an event morally binding?

Presentation Title: Narrow Bridges: Jews and Blacks in America Today
Presenter: Andre Ivory

Title: Ten Biblical Questions to Change Our Lives
Room: MU 242 La Paz

From Agender to Zir: The New Language of Gender

Presenter: Julie Tarney
Title: Life Cycle
Room: MU 241A Ventana

On a national stage, people like Laverne Cox, Caitlyn Jenner and transgender Jazz Jennings have helped give the transgender community a voice. But there’s still much confusion or lack of awareness surrounding the differences among terms like gender identity, sexual orientation and gender expression. Some even wonder about the “Q” in LGBTQ (Q stands for “queen/questioning”). Julie Tarney, author of the memoir MY SON WEARS HEELS: One Mom’s Journey from Clueless to Kickass, will help us navigate the changing landscape of gender through stories of her experiences raising a fabulous gender creative child of the ’90s.

Livia’s premise is the Torah is a story of do-ers. From Abraham, to Moses, to our modern day do-ers. Tikkun Olam and personal transformation is a process, requiring action.

Using one of the lessons from her book, “Life from A-Z, 20 Minutes a Day: A Guide to Creating a Better You”, Livia will guide participants in a personal exploration and development of action steps. In a workshop setting, she will teach the principle, and take participants through specific activities. She will facilitate individuals to focus their attitudes and thereby empower them to achieve their goals.

Participants will be learning, reflecting, writing and sharing (if they chose). Livia will personally assist each person as she moves through the room during the self-analysis and action part of the presentation.

Participants will come out of this session empowered, with clarity of their personal mission and a map of how to achieve the goal.

Presenter: Livia Spitz Steingart
Title: Our Bodies/Ourselves
Room: MU 238 Apache

What does it mean to be human in and from God’s image? How and why do we strive for sanctity? How do the body and soul relate to each other? Why is cultivating intimacy important, and how do we do it? Participate in a guided discussion exploring these questions and learn how they provide a backdrop for understanding a Jewish perspective on human sexuality. Come prepared for lively interaction through an exchange of ideas, questions, and challenges.

Presenter: John Linder
Title: Life Cycle
Room: MU 236 Mojave

Some of the most dramatic, sublime, and soul-searching narrative moments in the Hebrew Bible, come in the form of questions. Jews have always put a premium on questions, far more than answers. Jewish tradition wants to probe the heart and soul, to make us think, to learn about ourselves, our relationship with our fellow man, the earth and God. Rabbis Linder places each question in its biblical context, followed by reflections that flow from the depth of the questions, followed by a mindfulness practice to integrate the questions into our lives. Each participate is sure to be touched, if not transformed.

Title: What Makes Us Human? What Makes Us Jewish?
Room: MU 241C Ventana

What are the constitutive factors that make us distinctively human? How are we, as human beings, different from angels and how are we different from animals? What’s makes Jews distinct from other faiths and cultures? Join Rabbi Dr. Shmuly Yanklowitz for a session exploring Jewish identity and values in the 21st century.

Title: Jewish Meaning on the Diamond: Pro-Baseball in Israel
Room: MU 228 Cochise

I entered rabbinical school at age 24 with roughly 22 years of baseball playing experience beginning in my backyard with a plastic bat and ball, of course. We often see Judaism as a source of inspiration to live more meaningful lives. For me, it was the other way around. I used my 22 years of passion and love for the game of baseball to figure out how to live a more meaningful Jewish life. The lessons that Judaism teaches, from valuing community to respect for rules, to fixing the world, are all lessons that can be found on the ball field.

For some people like me, describing these lessons in the framework of my passion for baseball allowed me to work backwards and more fully understand my Jewish tradition. In this class, beyond hearing the story of the one and only season of pro baseball in Israel, we will discover how we can use our secular passions in life to inspire more meaningful Jewish living.

The session will be geared towards a beginner/intermediate level. Dances taught will span many decades of Israeli folk dance from pioneer era to modern day and incorporate a variety of different styles. No previous experience is required, just be prepared for a very active hour!

Presenter: Michael Beyo
Title: Bo’u Lirkod – Israeli Folk Dancing
Room: MU 207 Gold

This class will review the religious/cultural/socio-economics conflicts that exist within the State of Israel.

Presenter: Ross Wolman
Title: PB & Falafel: Israeli Pop Music Responses to Tragedy & Triumph
Room: MU 241B Ventana

How do we collectively respond to tragedy? What about triumph? What brings us together, and how do we get through it all as a nation?

We will explore a few examples of how Israeli artists have expressed these moments from grief to elation using multimedia and discussion.

Presenter: Laib Blotner
Title: The Chassidic Soul
Room: MU 226 Graham

The Chassidic movement offered the masses a new approach to Judaism, that valued sincerity and emotional fervor. It shows a path to realizing one’s purpose and developing a deeper relationship with God.

This class will explore 6 major principles of Chassidic thought based on the classic book the Tanya: 1. Divine Providence, 2. Joy 3. Love of your fellow. 4. The makeup of the soul. 5. The Tzadik-leadership 6. Character refinement

Presenter: Ezra Glinter
Title: Have I Got a Story for You: Yiddish Writers in America
Room: MU 242 La Paz

The Forward is the most renowned Yiddish newspaper in the world. It welcomed generations of immigrants to the United States, brought them news of Europe and the Middle East, and provided them with everything from comic strips to noodle kugel recipes. It also published some of the most acclaimed Yiddish fiction writers of all time, including Nobel Prize laureate Isaac Bashevis Singer. These stories, now in English for the first time, expressed the concerns of Yiddish writers and their millions of readers, including the challenges of immigration, both World Wars, and changing forms of Jewish identity.

Engaging participants in the exploration of Judaism’s commitment to hospitality, Rabbi Snyder will facilitate learning related to hospitality values and practices across denominational boundaries. Drawing upon her research, participants will be able to discuss how such values and practices can dynamically respond to expressions of hate, thereby establishing a firewall of Tikkun Olam.

Join psychologist and educator Dr. Jennifer Brown in learning how to encourage better work/life balance through using the Jewish Star as a guide. Dr. Brown will discuss the symbolism of each point of the star and how incorporating this symbolism can serve as a daily guide to help keep you balanced.

Each of us has a way that we cope with challenges and respond to experiences. The Kabbalistic Tree of Life offers "pieces" of our personality or enhancing areas to make us more whole.

Judaism has a program of extreme spiritual fitness that can teach each and every one of us to become a mensch; it’s called Mussar. For over 1000 years, Mussar has taught how to develop character, not simply to overcome our weaknesses but to shine and thrive in life.

BOLEL, LEIB

A. Leib Bolel, originally from the UK, served as Rabbi of Beth El Jacob Synagogue, Des Moines, IA from 2011 until 2016. He and his family recently moved to Scottsdale to extend the Jewish opportunities for his children after seeing his Synagogue double in size under his leadership. He now leads MAKOR - a new center in Scottsdale for young Jewish families and professionals that is affiliated with JAC (Jewish Arizonans on Campus) to provide educational opportunities and Shabbat services while also running his consulting and coaching firm, Bolel Coaching and Consulting. Leib has written extensively in different publications primarily focusing on Judaism, Israel, Leadership and Coaching and presents on these topics around the country.

BONDER, JASON

Jason Bonder grew up with two major passions in life - Judaism and sports. Those two passions combined when Jason had the opportunity to play in the first, and only, season of professional baseball in Israel. Even though the professional league folded, the feeling of combining his secular and religious passions has never faded. Jason hopes to show people of all ages how ancient texts and traditions do not have to be at odds with their secular interests and passions.

JASON Bonder is a graduate of the Reconstructionist Rabbinical College in Wynnewood, PA. He earned his Master's Degree from the Graduate School of the Jewish Theological Seminary in New York City, and his Bachelor’s Degree, Magna Cum Laude, from Muhlenberg College in Allentown, PA. He and his wife, Rina Lebovitz, are currently being taught how to parent by their young son, Mark.

In many of these organizations, Paul has taken a major role in leading, implementing and successfully marketing unique fundraising activities to carry out the mission of the various organizations.

BROWN, JENNIFER

Jennifer Brown, Ph.D. is a psychologist and intuitive counselor whose practice, Understanding Women: A Naked Look Into Womanhood, explores the importance of understanding womanhood. Her message shatters the silence between women and society, shifting once male-focused paradigm to include a feminine perspective. Jennifer’s research, which explores women’s cycles through a variety of cultural, spiritual and religious perspectives, formed the philosophical foundation for Understanding Women. Jennifer holds a Doctorate in Transpersonal Psychology with doctoral level certifications in Spiritual Guidance and Transpersonal Education and Research. She is in private practice in Scottsdale.

CAPLAN, MICAH

Micah Caplan joined Congregation Or Tzion on July 1, 2010. He has long-standing ties to Phoenix, having grown up here as a young kid. Previously, Micah has served congregations in Florida and California where he introduced extensive bar mitzvah and youth programming. Under Micah’s leadership, Or Tzion has grown from 500 families. His vision is creating a place of learning, sharing and celebrating Jewish living together as a Kehillah Kedosha — a holy community. He is known for his warm, personal outreach. Micah and his wife Michelle are the proud parents of three beautiful children: Brianah (16), Julia (13) and Avi (8). An avid sports fan, his favorite teams are the Phoenix Suns, Arizona Cardinals and the Los Angeles Dodgers. He is always willing to attend a game with anyone who wishes to take him.

COHEN, MARIAM

Mariam Cohen is a psychiatrist with a practice in the area for over 30 years. She has published papers on the intersection between religion and psychotherapy. Mariam converted to Judaism over 40 years ago. She has a PhD in Religious Studies from ASU with a dissertation on conversion to Judaism. For the dissertation she interviewed over 30 people who were in the process of converting to Judaism.

CRANE, NATE

Upon earning his ordination from the Ziegler School of Rabbinic Studies, Nate Crane began his career at Congregation B’nai Tikvah in Deerfield, IL as Director of Lifelong Learning. Under Nate’s leadership, enrollment in the religious school increased by 20 percent, and the Chicago Jewish Federation awarded the school the Best Practices in Jewish Education Grant. Having served as rabbinic intern of Congregation Or Tzion throughout rabbinical school, Nate is thrilled to return to Phoenix, now as Associate Rabbi and Education Director. He is a NewCAJE Young Professional Fellow and sits on the Educator Advisory Board of Visrael.
DAVIS, JILL
Jill Davis has worked in the mental health field for over 30 years, working with individuals, babies, children, adolescents, couples, parents and schools to facilitate their opportunities for a more successful and happy life. She earned BA and MA degrees from the University of Michigan and an MA from Oakland University. Jill has a body-mind-spirit approach and bridges the worlds of traditional clinical work with techniques that work for parents in today’s technically driven society. She uses humor, empathy and kindness to assist people in learning how to feel good and have better relationships with family, friends and in the workplace. She has authored two books: Life’s A Trip and The ABC’S of What You Can Be. Jill is a certified Child’space Practitioner, Feldenkrais Practitioner, and Yoga Instructor.

FINE, MARCIA
